Multinational Corps Northeast (MNC NE) joined in the II Szczecin Days of European Integration organised by the Academy of European Integration in Szczecin from 4 to 6 October 2012.

Already last year, the MNC NE Commander Lieutenant General Rainer Korff signed an agreement with the Academy of European Integration and took under the MNC NE Commander's wing one of the fields of study – European Integration. This enabled to strengthen cooperation between the two institutions, shown among other things during the Patron's Day in March 2012 as well as the MNC NE support for this year's Days of European Integration.

The programme of the II Szczecin Days of European Integration provided several opportunities to share MNC NE experiences on integration, the main idea for this year's event. The MNC NE Commander General Korff took part in a scientific debate on 5 October devoted to economic, social and military aspects of secure European integration. The debate attracted a number of participants from uniformed services, civil authorities, cultural and scientific organisations, private companies, and others.

An example of how integration works in practice was presented during a picnic held on 7 October at Jasne Błonia in Szczecin with the participation of multinational staff of the Headquarters. However, due to bad weather conditions, the Saturday event was shortened.
