Wishes of calm, merry Christmas, spent together with friends and families.

Christmas is the most special time of the year, when all dreams may come true. It is the time when Christmas trees beam, baubles and other Christmas decorations make winter colourful, and Christmas carols, and songs are played in the background. It is the time when everything is possible.

In this special moment also our Headquarters' personnel would like to wish you a very merry Christmas full of joy, laughter and love. We wish you a great time spent with your families and friends so that energy and ideas are gathered for the upcoming year. And for the New Year 2008? Successes that exceed the expectations and dreams that are within the arm's reach. And one more thing – let this Christmas be white.
