On 6 June 2012, Chief Warrant Officer Jacek Kuchlewski, Polish Army, was awarded the Corps Medal of the Multinational Corps Northeast by the Corps' Commander Lieutenant General Rainer Korff.

The ceremony was attended by the Corps' general officers, chiefs of all Headquarters Staff Divisions and branch chiefs to honour the service of Chief Warrant Officer Jacek Kuchlewski as "an outstanding Polish Warrant Officer who draws his excellent military behaviour from his deep professional ethos which is paired with a strong personality. He is the kind of soldier you always can count on," – as General Korff said when handing over the Corps Medal of the Multinational Corps Northeast, the highest Corps' award.

Chief Warrant Officer Kuchlewski served for Multinational Corps Northeast for more than twelve years as a medical specialist. He was recognized as an important member of the team whose professional knowledge and experiences were highly valued on numerous occasions. He was deployed to Afghanistan twice together with the MNC NE staff where he also gained much of recognition. Unfortunately, his tour of duty at the Headquarters in Szczecin came to an end. "It was a great time here, I have learned a lot. There were two missions with the Headquarters a lot of exercises, I met a lot of people which means that this Headquarters will remain in my heart for the rest of my life," said Chief Warrant Officer Kuchlewski. "I am honoured to be the member of this Headquarters and I will spread the good name of this Headquarters," he also promised.

The award ceremony coincided with the day of birthday of Chief Warrant Officer Kuchlewski
