Multinational Corps Northeast experts in Civil-Military Cooperation (CIMIC), Psychological Operations and Public Affairs conducted a series of lectures for students of the Department of Conflict and Peace Research of Szczecin University.

On 9, 16 and 23 January 2013, Subject Matter Experts in a respective field met students of the National Security to complement their study programme and present an updated package of information on CIMIC, Psychological Operations and Public Affairs.

The briefings were organized on the initiative of the Head of the Department of Conflict and Research, Prof. Andrzej Aksamitowski. This common undertaking will for sure contribute to the development of cooperation between both institutions and may result in closer relations in the future.
