On Sunday, February 25th, the Family Care Centre organized a winter event for the families connected with the Headquarters Multinational Corps Northeast. The families met at Gubałówka – outside the city and in the forest surrounding – in order to get a breath of fresh winter air and to spend a nice Sunday afternoon. The children had a lot of fun while skating; some of them courageously fell on the ice, others firmly held their mothers or fathers by the hand. Despite the fact that there was little snow, some took the skis with them to have at least one slide. There was a chance to warm up with for example hot chocolate if anybody felt cold. The common lunch at the restaurant stylized as a shepherd's hut was the opportunity to meet together and to have a nice chat. Goulash, dumplings and, of course, chips reigned supreme that day. After lunch, some children wanted to continue skating and skiing, the other set off for the forest. Following the ghost of Gubałówka's track, the children found tips and tasks to complete e.g. physical or intellectual exercises such as naming hibernating animals or animals that one can come across in the forest. Accomplished tasks allowed the children to find sweets, which were hidden in the forest for them. For those who were walking in the forest or those who did not feel like skating or skiing any more a campfire bringing warmth, light and delicious sausages was prepared. This attraction was the last one for this Sunday afternoon. Happy faces of children with pink glows on their cheeks made everybody smile and realize that this Sunday event
