

□ "Thank you for your smile and charm" – celebrating the International Women's Day at the Baltic Barracks.

There are days in the whole year that women like more than other ones. It can be the day of birthday or celebration of personal events. International Women's Day also belongs to that list. The reason for that does not lie in demand for being appreciated or noticed. The reason is that it is simply a nice day when women smile more making this winter day blooming like in the spring.

To feel that special atmosphere, the celebration of the International Women's Day was organised in the Baltic Barracks. Women of the Corps and National Support Elements gathered at the Allied Officers' Club waiting with curiosity for the course of events. LtGen Zdzisław Goral, Commander Headquarters Multinational Corps Northeast, as the host of the reception greeted all gathered women and expressed gratitude for women's daily work and service as well as thanked for their engagement and support. Apart from flowers there was the artistic part prepared, to include dancers who presented modern and ballroom dances attracting the attention of everyone in the room.
