

Members of the Youth Organisation of the German Parties, teachers and enthusiasts of military formations visited the Headquarters Multinational Corps Northeast on 12th November 2008.

The aim of the visit was to gain some information about the existence of the Corps in Szczecin and its importance for improving international cooperation. Some of the visitors have been the guests of the city already in the past but for most of them it was the first chance to visit Szczecin and the HQ MNC NE. Another purpose of the meeting in the Corps was to learn about multinational structures and working at the MNC NE. During the briefing the listeners were given essential pieces of information about history and functions of the Headquarters. People who were taking part in the briefing were mostly teachers. Thanks to received knowledge they would be able to teach the inhabitants of Schleswig-Holstein about military and political aspects of multinational integration.

Dr Ruedgier Wenzel, who is the leader of the National Head Office of Political Education, the educational department of the local government in Schleswig-Holstein, explains that this non-party organisation informs the German society about contemporary political events and helps to understand them with an objective point of view.
