May this Christmas bring magic into your lives; may it be cheerful and unforgettable. And for the New Year 2012: successes exceeding the expectations and dreams within the arm's reach.

December which brings along the awaited Christmas spirit is the time when people tend to summarize the year coming to an end. They do the holiday cleaning to tidy up their surroundings. They add colour to the winter scenery with decorations and lights. They meet the dearest ones at the Christmas table. And they get ready to welcome the New Year with an open mind, energy and optimism. So let the tradition is done and let us exchange a simple greeting that means so much: Merry Christmas and a happy New Year!
